

A Primer of "Harmony."

Little Boy: "Papa, what does the poor old Republic mean when it calls for harmony among Missouri Democrats?"

Papa: "It means, my son, that a few men want to boss a hundred thousand other men and are urging the hundred thousand to stop asserting their independence and to seek 'harmony.'"

Little Boy: "But how are they to get 'harmony,' Papa?"

Papa: "That, my son, is very simple. The hundred thousand men must submit to the bossism of the few men. Then there will be no trouble. All will be lovely."

Little Boy: "But, Papa, why don't they do the other way? Why don't the few men get 'harmony' by doing what the hundred thousand want done?"

Papa: "There, my son, is the mystery. But when you get older you'll understand boss politics better. In the bright lexicon of bossism 'harmony' means that everybody else shall do what the boss wants."—Post-Dispatch.
